SPECIAL NEWS!

I am going to skip announcements for this week and instead we have some special news this week. I am going to interview 4 teachers on 3 questions. 1. How do you feel about your job, 2. How do you feel working at LHPS and 3. What are 3 facts not many students know about you.

The first teacher I'm going to interview is Mrs Copeland. She said I love my job. I love working with students, staff and being a part of the community. I'm obsessed with dogs and I used to be a face painter.

Next up Mrs Morgan. She said it is a very challenging job but at the same time it's also very rewarding and I love teaching children new things. I really enjoy working alongside great teachers who are also good friends and inspire me each day. I have 5 tattoos, I still hold a school record for high jump and long jump and I have 16 aunties and uncles all on my mum's side.

Next up Mrs Smith. She said I love it and I'm still passionate about my job after nearly 26 years. I love my 4S sunflower's, my garden of learners and working with wonderful colleagues. We're an awesome team! I was born in Biloela in Central Queensland, near Rockhampton. Biloela means white cockatoo. I started studying law but deferred. I'm obsessed with dice, "Dice is my life" and I love teaching math! Now finally Mr O'Connor. He said I love it with all my heart, especially the kids. I have worked at many good schools but LHPS is my favorite. I have two sisters, one older and one younger. I was the dux of my primary school. I once ate a steak sandwich in 4 bites.

Story

I quickly turned around and right in front of me was a girl my age and my gender looking at me with her amber coloured eyes. "Hello she said," "What's your name?" "Estella," I replied. "What's yours?" "Bethany," she said. Then suddenly the two girls said the same thing at the exact same time. "What are you doing out here?" they said "I was flung into the air by the volcano on the mountain side" "It was so scary wasn't it Bethany" said Estella "Yeah" said Bethany. So the two decided to head off into the forest and find supplies to keep them alive. After a while they were trying to get to sleep when they saw an animal in the bushes then it ran past them and it was a wolf and it spoke to them and said "Come with me".

What will happen next? Find out in the next weekly advocate!
